this book unveils the myriad streams of ecocentric thoughts that have been flowing through the human mind in indigenous communities in the wisdom of philosophers in the creative expressions of poets and writers sometimes latent but sometimes more explicit the strength of this book lies in the fact that it attempts to show that ecocentrism had not emerged suddenly as a distinct line of philosophical thought or found its place among the various normative approaches toward nature but the seeds of ecocentrism had always been running through human societies thus this book not only emphasizes the unity of life but also reveals the inherent unity of all hues of ecocentrism the book adopts a multidisciplinary approach which is essential to dwell on a topic like ecocentrism which permeates the domains of disciplines as disparate as science philosophy religion normative ethics myths and folklore poetry and literature among others despite this eclectic approach the book attempts to maintain continuity among the chapters and present these concepts in a simple form that will be easily accessible by readers from all conceivable backgrounds this book would be useful to the students researchers and faculty from the fields of ecology and environmental science philosophy sociology religious studies and literature it will also be an indispensable companion for all nature lovers activists and general readers interested in the emergence and evolution of environmental thoughts
