this study is the first comprehensive analysis of the physical theory of the islamic philosopher avicenna d 1037 it seeks to understand his contribution against the developments within the preceding greek and arabic intellectual milieus and to appreciate his philosophy as such by emphasising his independence as a critical and systematic thinker exploring avicenna's method of teaching and learning it investigates the implications of his account of the natural body as a three dimensionally extended composite of matter and form and examines his views on nature as a principle of motion and his analysis of its relation to soul moreover it demonstrates how avicenna defends the aristotelian conception of place against the strident criticism of his predecessors among other things by disproving the existence of void and space finally it sheds new light on avicenna's account of the essence and the existence of time for the first time taking into account the entire range of avicenna's major writings this study fills a gap in our understanding both of the history of natural philosophy in general and of the philosophy of avicenna in particular this monograph has been awarded the annual brais de gruyter prize kulturpreis bayern in the study of islam and the muslim world and the iran world award for book of the year 2020
