james w martin is a florida bar board certified real estate lawyer and adjunct professor of law at stetson university college of law who for over forty years has practiced florida real estate wills trusts probate corporations nonprofits and business law the author has seen too many nonprofit corporations improperly formed and maintained some failed to file for tax exempt status after incorporation some failed to hold annual meetings and file annual reports some failed to prepare meeting minutes and maintain records and some failed to follow statutory procedures failure to comply with the basics of nonprofit corporation law can result in real estate title problems litigation taxes penalties and potential personal liability this book provides a step by step process with forms and checklists for forming and maintaining florida nonprofit corporations to avoid these problems it is primarily directed to lawyers because florida nonprofit corporations are legal entities created under the florida not for profit corporation act so having a law degree really should be a prerequisite to forming and maintaining nonprofit corporations however the author realizes that we live in an age where nonlawyers freely access these materials on the internet so he has written this book in plain language that does not require a law degree to understand but his message for nonlawyers reading this book is to be sure to engage a florida licensed lawyer on their behalf to review any document before it is signed or filed the nonprofit sector is a vital component of our society and is allowed the greatest freedom to operate the public understandably assumes that since nonprofit organizations are established to do good the people who run nonprofits are altruistic and the laws governing nonprofits have reflected this assumption but as marion fremont smith argues the rules that govern how nonprofits operate are inadequate and the regulatory mechanisms designed to enforce the rules need improvement despite repeated instances of negligent management self interest at the expense of the charity and outright fraud nonprofits continue to receive minimal government regulation in this time of increased demand for corporate accountability the need to strengthen regulation of nonprofits is obvious fremont smith addresses this need from a historical legal and organizational perspective she combines summaries and analysis of the substantive legal rules governing the behavior of charitable officers directors and trustees with descriptions of the federal and state regulatory schemes designed to enforce these rules her unique and exhaustive historical survey of the law of nonprofit organizations provides a foundation for her analysis of the effectiveness of current law and proposals for its improvement
