research in medieval Indian history has changed from theme to theme over last two hundred years. History writing in one of the recent areas which has attracted the attention of the historians the present work tries to assess the writings on medieval Indian history with particular reference to works of professor Mohammad Habib in an area of emerging nationalism and growing consciousness for religious identity. History played a major role in the construction of such ideas. Mohammad Habib stands out as a historian who took a holistic view of the past. His work on Mahmud of Ghaznai gave a new turn to the writing of medieval Indian history. His exposition of the past using Marxist tools gave a new dimension to Indian historiography. He proved to be the beginning from where many later historians have taken cue and started journey of history writing. His works need to be studied thoroughly and examined in relation with later writings in order to have a correct picture of the past. The author has tried to bring forth those aspects of medieval Indian history which need to be discussed at length. It would surely go a long way in raising questions in the minds of serious researchers in the discipline and benefit all those who want to have a correct picture of the medieval past.

Drawing together the latest research in the field, the Routledge History of the Renaissance treats the Renaissance not as a static concept but as one of ongoing change within an international framework. It takes as its unifying theme the idea of exchange and interchange through the movement of goods, ideas, disease and people across social, religious, political and physical boundaries covering a broad range of temporal periods and geographic regions. The chapters discuss topics such as the material cultures of Renaissance societies, the increased popularity of shopping as a pastime in fourteenth century Italy, military entrepreneurs and their networks across Europe, the emergence and development of the Ottoman Empire from the early fourteenth to the late sixteenth century, and women and humanism in Renaissance Europe. The volume is interdisciplinary in nature, combining historical methodology with techniques from the fields of anthropology, sociology, psychology and literary criticism. It allows for juxtapositions of approaches that are usually segregated into traditional subfields such as intellectual, political, gender, military and economic history, capturing dynamic new approaches to the study of this fascinating period. Illustrated throughout with images, figures and tables, this comprehensive volume is a valuable resource for all students and scholars of the Renaissance.
