this book is unique in the way that it looks at the much talked about maritime security through the perspective of national security without disconnect in the terrain specific mode of the ocean the uniqueness is not in the treatment of the concept of maritime security but that of national security in a manner that is different from the beaten notion of physical security of a nation and its people from external and internal threats national security according to the author is more than just military security or the conditions of what is often termed as internal security it is complex according to his studied findings the book provides a warning to governments that any approach to national governance without integrated maritime security can be defeating in the overall objective of maximising national security even for landlocked countries in the modern world the book provides a comprehensive review and analysis of integrated maritime security providing ample scope for further research on many of the concepts and terminologies inculcated as findings of research the interesting aspect is that the author views maritime security as a ghost protocol to hammer his ideas into the earnest listener

north korea has posed a threat to stability in northeast asia for decades since kim jong un assumed power this threat has both increased and broadened since 2011 the small isolated nation has detonated nuclear weapons multiple times tested a wide variety of ballistic missiles expanded naval and ground systems that threaten south korea and routinely employs hostile rhetoric another threat it poses has been less recognized north korea presents a potentially greater risk to american interests by exporting its weapons systems to other volatile regions worldwide in north korean military proliferation in the middle east and africa bruce e bechtol jr analyzes relevant north korean military capabilities what arms the nation provides and to whom how it skirts its sanctions and how north korea s activities can best be contained he traces illicit networks that lead to state and nonstate actors in the middle east including syria iran hezbollah and hamas and throughout africa including at least a dozen nations the potential proliferation of nuclear and chemical weapons technology and the vehicles that carry it including ballistic missiles and artillery represent a broader threat than the leadership in pyongyang including training and infrastructure support north korea s profits may range into the billions of dollars all concealed in illicit networks and front companies so complex that the nation struggles to track and control them bechtol not only presents an accurate picture of the current north korean threat he also outlines methodologies that washington and the international community must embrace in order to contain it andré vltchek has compiled a stunning record in evoking the reality of the contemporary world not as perceived through the distorting prisms of power and privilege but as lived by the myriad victims he has also not failed to trace the painful and particularly for the west shameful realities to their historical roots in this work vltchek extends his penetrating gaze to a lovely desecrated almost forgotten vast area of the world oceania which he shows to be a microcosm of almost all major problems faced by our planet he brings to light the strength and courage of the people and their achievements and explores the hopes for decent recovery and survival if the powerful can allow themselves to comprehend what they have done and to accept the responsibility of actually protecting their victims instead of mouthing comforting and self serving slogans noam chomsky aurora is a tremendous work aurora is what a literary work should be fully human it is also what used to be known as a major literary work because it s rare to its time it represents a leading edge of consciousness courage and social need a major work that s why it must be buried as we know i m glad i can be part of it aurora is written at a consistently intense dynamic level i wish it could be 500 pages and dropped like a sonic boom on all the acclaimed literary centers of the world and be released like a climatic change for the good in the rest of the world perhaps the most vital feature or effect of aurora is that it expands consciousness or perception it thinks the unthinkable the bankruptcy and worse of the louvre etc the culture it does what a lot of great works of art do it criticizes art itself explicitly and implicitly and in doing so helps to make the needed room for itself in the world of art and in the world in general it creates and helps generate new thought understanding perception going forward it helps not only express the full human condition it helps transform it it s a working work of art a badly needed new experience it enters the battle it will be ignored dismissed and fought by the old world while by the new world it will be part of another story entirely tony christini author of homefront for more than sixty years nuclear weapons have cast a frightening shadow over world politics from their first use in 1945 these incredibly destructive weapons have influenced nearly every government s military policy while there are strict international laws regarding the possession and development of nuclear weapons even they cannot stop nuclear proliferation this book tells the high stakes story of nuclear technology its proliferation and the tense scramble to prevent nuclear weapons from getting in the wrong hands nuclear materials have never been more plentiful or more accessible to rogue states and terrorists in this study the authors analyze the consequences of such nuclear leakage for united states national security and argue that it is possibly the nation s h the nuclear arms race did an about face in 1991 and became a disarmament race the strategic arms reduction talks start treaty signed in july 1991 marked the first time the united states and soviet union committed themselves to reducing the size of their strategic nuclear arsenals the announcement of president bush s initiatives in september 1991 marked an unprecedented step in nuclear disarmament unilateral warhead reductions coupled with changes to the strategic nuclear alert posture and cancellation of some strategic modernization programs these initiatives achieved their desired result when president mikhail gorbachev reciprocated in october 1991 with his own set of unilateral initiatives not to be outdone president bush quickly followed with a second set of initiatives in january 1992 by this time the soviet union had become the former soviet union and its new president boris n yeltsin had also proposed a second set of unilateral initiatives the washington summit agreement in june 1992 established the framework for the start ii agreement signed in january 1993 this new agreement promises to reduce the number of us and commonwealth of independent states cis strategic offensive nuclear weapons to approximately one third of what they would have been under the start agreement
