a new multi coloured manual this book is a successor to and replacement for the highly respected manual and handbook on the benefits of flood and coastal risk management produced by the flood hazard research centre at middlesex university uk with support from defra and the environment agency it builds upon a previous book known as the multi coloured manual 2005 which itself was a synthesis of the blue 1977 red 1987 and yellow manuals 1992 as such it expands and updates this work to provide a manual of assessment techniques of flood risk management benefits indirect benefits and coastal erosion risk management benefits it has three key aims first it provides methods and data which can be used for the practical assessment of schemes and policies secondly it describes new research to update the data and improve techniques thirdly it explains the limitations and complications of benefit cost analysis to guide decision making on investment in river and coastal risk management schemes the politics and crisis management of animal health security addresses the 2001 foot and mouth epidemic in the united kingdom one of if not the most significant crises ever to face the uk farming industry underpinned by interviews with politicians and bureaucrats and with significant primary documentary analysis the book shows that the crisis was a critical juncture in how disease outbreaks have been planned and managed ever since the author explores how this event affected policy and governance arrangements for managing subsequent disease induced threats such as avian influenza and bovine tb and concludes by considering the temporality of lesson learning by the uk government including the current and future challenges associated with managing incongruent risks e g flood protection swine flu and ebola this book provides students of public policy and administration with a significant illustration of how key concepts and analytical lenses from public policy can be applied to the study of the contours of practical policy change think about how we know about past events in human history e g the expansion of the roman empire or the american revolution what types of records document those events now think about earth s history specifically the past environmental or climatic conditions at times before recorded human history what records might there be of such conditions make a list of your ideas n assemblage of five major types of natural archives of earth s environmental and climatic history what common feature s do each of these paleoclimate archives share an assemblage of 5 major types of natural records or archives of earth s environmental and climatic history just like a diary or other historical document the layers in these natural archives contain indirect evidence i e proxies about past conditions and events recorded in a sequential order the evidence is specific to a certain time period and may be general or very detailed depending on the rate that information was recorded the faster the rate at which the recorder grew trees and corals accumulated snow and ice or was deposited sedimentary sequences the more detailed the record is and the higher its resolution for example a record in which an annual signal can observed has a very high resolution in contrast if the finest observable details are on the order of a million years then that record would have a low resolution management as we know it has been the driver of business growth in u s economies for a couple of centuries yet the practice of management is no longer focused on creating real value instead it is now all about using sophisticated financial techniques and practices like outsourcing and downsizing among others to improve profitability such addition through subtraction results in higher profits in the short term but puts the corporation and its employees at risk in the long term not to mention the entire u s economy innovation and productivity improvement corporate manager jack buffington argues are lost arts in american business so is getting back to basics the answer buffington s provocative thesis management as we know it probably can t be repaired it must be replaced asian economies meanwhile are growing by leaps and bounds thanks in part to short term ill advised decisions made by u s managers local companies and divisions of multinational organizations in emerging countries are on track to eventually overtake those of the west putting our job base and prosperity at peril if we want to bring manufacturing jobs back here to the u s corporate managers must seek productivity and innovation improvements in u s operations jack buffington knows all too well how quickly things can go downhill for u s businesses turned into a relentless cost cutter by the forces of globalization and wall street s expectations for short term gains he like thousands of other u s executives has watched some of the companies he s worked for disappear for want of real value whereas america once prized managers who displayed skill in optimizing the interplay of capital labor and technology to grow a company today s professional manager is rewarded more often for being a cost cutter than an innovator fortunately this book not only outlines the problem it outlines the solution as well by establishing a 21st century definition of management that will succeed in today s global economy rather than angling to produce a penny more of earnings per share to please the financiers corporate managers will see once again how to use their ingenuity to produce products services and business processes that not only provide generous profits but sustain a business and its jobs for years to come by heeding buffington s call the u s can rekindle its zeal for innovation leading to an era in which consumers workers investors and managers all prosper
