this book is a comprehensive guide to administering writing programs at a moment when communication and thus the teaching of writing is always changing a companion to teaching writing in the twenty first century which considers how writing instructors can successfully adapt to new challenges this volume addresses the concerns of both novice and experienced writing program administrators it includes guidance on building and assessing writing programs on hiring training evaluating and mentoring instructors on eliminating cultural bias on encouraging the well being of administrators and instructors on assignments and instructional tools and on access diversity and inclusion aiming to help administrators develop thoughtful effective approaches to using technology in writing programs the book also provides information designed to support instructors in their teaching of rhetorical literacy strategies regardless of the environment or medium in which students compose and communicate this publication explores some of the barriers that hinder external finance from making greater contributions to the sustainability of landscapes in the global south it provides insights into the potential of blended finance green bonds and crowdfunding structures to contribute to bridging that gap the document is meant for investors that are new to land based investments in the global south and are particularly interested in achieving social and environmental impacts it is also written for development organizations with little experience in leveraging private finance for local development and conservation and for future practitioners in this field the authors identified several gaps in knowledge and experiences and it is hoped that through this document the readers will be motivated to fill in those gaps in the near future contributing to scaling up finance for sustainable and inclusive landscapes how colleges and universities can live up to their ideals of diversity and why inclusivity and excellence go hand in hand most colleges and universities embrace the ideals of diversity and inclusion but many fall short especially in the hiring retention and advancement of faculty who would more fully represent our diverse world in particular women and people of color in this book abigail stewart and virginia valian argue that diversity and excellence go hand in hand and provide guidance for achieving both stewart and valian themselves senior academics support their argument with comprehensive data from a range of disciplines they show why merit is often overlooked they offer statistics and examples of individual experiences of exclusion such as being left out of crucial meetings and they outline institutional practices that keep exclusion invisible including reliance on proxies for excellence such as prestige that disadvantage outstanding candidates who are not members of the white male majority perhaps most important stewart and valian provide practical advice for overcoming obstacles to inclusion this advice is based on their experiences at their own universities their consultations with faculty and administrators at many other institutions and data on institutional change stewart and valian offer recommendations for changing structures and practices so that people become successful in ways that benefit everyone they describe better ways of searching for job candidates evaluating candidates for hiring tenure and promotion helping faculty succeed and broadening rewards and recognition
