in the arena of poetry and poetics over the past century no idea has been more alive and contentious than the idea of form and no aspect of form has more emphatically sponsored this marked formal concern than the line but what exactly is the line emily rosko and anton vander zee s anthology gives seventy original answers that lead us deeper into the world of poetry but also far out into the world at large its people its politics its ecology the authors included here emerging and established alike write from a range of perspectives in terms of both aesthetics and identity together they offer a dynamic hybrid collection that captures a broad spectrum of poetic practice in the twenty first century rosko and vander zee s introduction offers a generous overview of conversations about the line from the romantics forward we come to see how the line might be an engine for ideals of progress political ethical or otherwise for some poets the line touches upon the most fundamental questions of knowledge and existence more than ever the line is the radical against which even alternate and emerging poetic forms that foreground the visual or the auditory the page or the screen can be distinguished and understood from the start a singular lesson emerges lines do not form meaning solely in their brevity or their length in their becoming or their brokenness lines live in and through the descriptions we give them indeed the history of american poetry in the twentieth century could be told by the compounding and often confounding discussions of its lines a broken thing both reflects upon and extends this history charting a rich diffusion of theory and practice into the twenty first century with the most diverse wide ranging and engaging set of essays to date on the line in poetry revealing how poems work and why poetry continues to matter the new criterion now co edited by the art critic hilton kramer and roger kimball was founded in 1982 by mr kramer and the pianist and music critic samuel lipman a monthly review of the arts and intellectual life the new criterion began as an experiment in critical audacity a publication devoted to engaging in matthew arnold s famous phrase with the best that has been thought and said this also meant engaging with those forces dedicated to traducing genuine cultural and intellectual achievement whether through obfuscation politicization or a commitment to nihilistic absurdity we are proud that the new criterion has been in the forefront both of championing what is best and most humanely vital in our cultural inheritance and in exposing what is mendacious corrosive and spurious published monthly from september through june the new criterion brings together a wide range of young and established critics whose common aim is to bring you the most incisive criticism being written today
