signs of power in habsburg spain and the new world explores the representation of political economic military religious and juridical power in texts and artifacts from early modern Spain and her American vicerealties in addition to analyzing the dynamics of power in written texts. Chapters also examine pieces of material culture including coats of arms, coins, paintings, and engravings as the essays demonstrate many of these objects work to transform the amorphous concept of power into a material reality with considerable symbolic dimensions subject to and dependent on interpretation. With its broad approach to the discourses of power, Signs of Power brings together studies of both canonical literary works as well as more obscure texts and objects. The position of the works studied with respect to the official center of power also varies, whereas certain essays focus on the ways in which portrayals of power champion the aspirations of the Spanish crown, other essays attend to voices of dissent that effectively call into question that authority.

In Picking Wedlock, Shifra Armon illuminates the remarkable convergence of three women novelists of Spain's Golden Age: María de Zayas, Mariana de Carvajal, and Leonor de Meneses. Armon considers these extraordinary writers together for the first time, appraising them in relationship to the historical and literary nexus that gave impetus to the publication of their work.
