after an unhappy and fanciful childhood orphan eva trout travels throughout europe and america in search of love and serenity eva trout elizabeth bowen s last novel epitomizes her bold exploration of the territory between the comedy of manners and cutting social commentary orphaned at a young age eva has found a home of sorts in worcestershire with her former schoolteacher iseult arbles and iseult s husband eric from a safe distance in london her legal guardian constantine assumes that all s well but eva s flighty romantic nature hasn t entirely clicked with the arbles household and eva is plotting to escape when she sets out to hock her jaguar and disappear without a trace she unwittingly leaves a paper trail for her various custodians and all kinds of trouble to follow please note that the content of this book primarily consists of articles available from wikipedia or other free sources online commentary novels not included pages 18 chapters eva trout novel the death of the heart the heat of the day the house in paris the last september excerpt the last september is a novel by the anglo irish writer elizabeth bowen published in 1929 concerning life at the country mansion of danielstown cork during the irish war of independence preface although the last september was first published in 1929 a preface was written for this text decades later to be included in the second american edition of this novel concerned that readers unfamiliar with this particular chapter of anglo irish history would not fully comprehend the anxieties of these times bowen takes great pains to explain the particulars of both her writing process and the political reasons for the unsettled atmosphere felt throughout the text palpable even in its most seemingly serene moments of all her books bowen notes the last september is nearest to my heart had a deep unclouded spontaneous source though not poetic it brims up with what could be the stuff of poetry the sensations of youth it is a work of instinct rather than knowledge to a degree a recall book but there had been no such recall before while bowen s own beloved family home bowen s court remained untouched throughout the troubled times this preface explores the ramifications for witnesses of ambushes arrests captures and burning reprisals and counter reprisals as the british patrolled and hunted the irish planned lay in wait and struck i was the child of the house from which danielstown derives bowen concludes nevertheless so often in my mind s eye did i see it burning that the terrible last event in the last september is more real than anything i have lived through part one the arrival of mr mrs montmorency
