this cultural journey down memory lane showcases how major western figures events and places have been portrayed in folk legends art literature and popular culture ever since the days of the 49ers and George Armstrong Custer the old west has been America's most potent source of legend but it is sometimes hard to separate fact from fiction did you know for example that Annie Oakley was a talented marksman who shot an estimated 40 000 rounds per year while practicing and performing for Buffalo Bill Cody's Wild West Show in the late 1800s or that many interpreters believe that the wonderful wizard of Oz is not just a fairy tale but also a populist allegory these are just two of the folk legends dissected and examined in this veritable cultural geography the volume covers everything from billionaire Howard Hughes and composer Aaron Copeland to Aztlan the legendary first city of the Aztecs and Area 51 the top secret U.S. Air Force base at Groom Lake Nevada that has fascinated UFO and conspiracy buffs in western New Mexico in 1905 there rode a notorious outlaw from the Mexican border named Henry Coleman with a Colt 45 strapped to his hip Coleman alias Street Hudspeth from the Well to Do Texas family came to be either despised as a deceitful rustler and ruthless murderer or admired as a man of honor and great courage a popular and charismatic cowman who was fast with a gun no one seemed indifferent in less than a decade Coleman who was fluent in Spanish and popular with many of the hispanics of the area became as famous in the western part of the state as billy the kid was in lincoln county sheriff elfego baca of socorro county who was careful not to confront coleman referred to him as the last of the bad men of new mexico especially spellbinding are the recollections of how coleman came to be associated with several murders also intriguing is how he died so violently at the hands of a posse of cattlemen in october 1921 from her ranch on largo creek not far from where coleman was said to have committed more than one murder eleanor williams worked hard to interview anyone who had known him or had any knowledge of his daring deeds williams first published coleman s story in the new mexico electric news a monthly electrical co op magazine from 1964 to 1965 award winning historian jerry thompson edited and annotated it with additional historical context also included is a short biography of williams by her daughter helen cress this work demonstrates that not everything that disney touched turned to gold in its first 100 years the company had major successes that transformed filmmaking and culture but it also had its share of unfinished projects unmet expectations and box office misses some works failed but nevertheless led to other more stunning and lucrative ones others shed light on periods when the disney company was struggling to establish or re establish its brand in addition many disney properties popular in their time but lost to modern audiences emerge as forgotten gems by exploring the studio s missteps this book provides a more complex portrayal of the history of the company than one would gain from a simple recounting of its many hits with essays by writers from across the globe it also asserts that what endures or is forgotten varies from person to person place to place or generation to generation what one dismisses someone else recalls with deep fondness as a magical disney memory this work provides a compelling explanation of something that has bedeviled a number of feminist scholars why did popular authors like edna ferber continue to write conventional fiction while living lives that were far from conventional amanda j zink argues that white writers like ferber and willa cather avoided the subject of their own domestic labor by writing about the performance of domestic labor by others showing that american print culture both in novels and through advertisements moved away from portraying women as angels in the house and instead sought to persuade other women to be angels in their houses zink further explores lesser known works such as mexican american cookbooks and essays in indian boarding school magazines to show how women writers dialoging domesticity exemplify the cross cultural encounters between colonial domesticity and sovereign domesticity by situating these interpretations of literature within their historical contexts zink shows how these writers championed and challenged the ideology of domesticity

the encyclopedia focuses on the people and peoples of the west approaching the region as a collection of multiethnic frontiers and as the spawning ground for an array of industries and enterprises that each gave rise to its own culture and carried with it important ecological consequences p xi
