many preachers and teachers of preaching talk about the gospel few name it theologies of the gospel in context assembles a gifted group of homileticians who think that preachers need to be able to articulate the gospel not in general but in a certain time and place in context they consider what gospel sounds like for people under oppression in capitalist economies in neocolonial contexts for survivors of trauma and for disestablished mainline churches marred by racism preachers will appreciate these preacher scholars desire to articulate the gospel with clarity especially since the term is so often left unexplained homileticians will see a new genre of doing their work as teachers and researchers in preaching a vision that helps preaching see itself not just as an adjunct to exegesis or communication but a place of doing theology in these pages homiletics is more than technique it is a truly theological discipline the major religious traditions of south asia are religions of the book all accept basic arrays of texts of scriptures often seen as sacred reservoirs of meaning and power the west has viewed these texts as bibles of their respective traditions projecting onto them western values and concerns this book challenges such misconceptions by revealing the complex character of scripture and its interpretation in south asian religions texts in context explores the hermeneutical traditions of hinduism buddhism jainism islam and sikhism the question of how we should understand the diversity of text traditions is approached by asking how have traditional thinkers the exegetes within these traditions understood and utilized scripture the answers though remarkably diverse do reveal important similarities and take the discussion of scripture in india to a deeper level this book makes accessible to the non specialist sensibilities and approaches that have previously received little attention in the west but have formed the basis for traditional efforts to understand and utilize scripture it is a collaboration between contemporary thinkers and their traditional counterparts whose voices emerge as they consider the sacred words of the religious traditions of south asia
