this concise guide tells you how to write a novel by using a systematic approach to writing this guide is written by an author not a guru a simple step by step breakdown of how to plan each day no fillers and no theory just the hard facts in a concise guide there are many guides about writing novels on the market but how many of them are written by prolific published authors the answer is not many how can anyone write a guide unless they have been through the writing process many times before the simple answer to this question is they can't because they cannot feed on their own actual experiences to help another writer to avoid the mistakes and pitfalls most guides regurgitate information which they have picked up from creative writing books or sites how can they give you advice when they have never sat down and focused on creating a novel which will sell many times over writing a novel is the same as any other task we undertake as individuals we have to learn how to do it in order to do it well when you first learn to drive you need lessons no one walks into the kitchen and creates a gourmet dish on their first attempt if you want a system to apply to writing a book then you need to take advice from an author who has taken years to develop the process via experience this book examines the conceptual existential and logical conditions under which the philosophical novel can be treated as a literary genre on a par with generally recognized literary genres such as mystery romantic adventure religious or historical novel michael h mitias argues that the philosophical novel meets these conditions he advances a detailed analysis of the concept of literary genre and discusses the reasons which justify the claim that philosophical novel is a distinct literary genre this is based on the assumption that philosophical ideas can be communicated metaphorically an analysis of this assumption necessarily leads to a detailed discussion of the concept of metaphor and the extent to which it can be the vehicle of communicating philosophical truth
