two teaching experts offer methods for maximizing student comprehension in all areas of education with extensive research and practical examples all teachers want their students to think learn and understand in this helpful guide veteran educators dr joann jurchan and dr chuck downing examine what successful teachers are doing and not doing to achieve those goals often without realizing it many teachers provide students ways to complete their assignments with minimal effort or comprehension the problem is how to avoid the tmi trap because too much information can stifle critical thinking tune up your teaching provides clear and detailed methods teachers can use to raise the level of both thinking and learning in their classrooms written in a conversational style jurchan and downing use concrete examples in all core areas of education to clarify critical points the authors include he said she said dialogues providing insight into their thought process neither a cookbook nor a one size fits all solution tune up your teaching instead describes a research based process that can be personally tailored by any teacher to her or his situation this is a very applied companion text to making choices for multicultural education by sleeter grant it is based on the five major approaches to multicultural education especially on the social reconstructionist approach advocated in making choices for multicultural education this text educates readers on how to take existing lesson plans and re work them to become multicultural a discussion explaining why the changes were made follows each lesson plan this book examines from a sociological perspective teacher student power relations in classroom learning and teaching the case study consists of four hong kong primary schools and sixteen classrooms therein that were selected as research sites to explore the concept of teacher student power relations observations individual interviews and document analysis were the main data collection methods employed wong provides the historical context for the issue of teacher student power relationship by reviewing the traditional chinese cultures and values in particular the values of respect for authority and for teachers and demonstrates the intermingling of chinese and western cultures in contemporary hong kong chinese society she reviews the major educational initiatives carried out in hong kong since the 1970s showing how western educational policies promoting student centric teaching modes have encouraged changes in classroom culture with reference to the observed seventy three lessons the study identified three patterns of teacher student power relations teacher domination relatively balanced opportunity for power sharing and student self empowerment each involving different degrees of power being exercised by teacher and students the coexistence of these three power patterns and the two corresponding power situations student empowerment and disempowerment can be explained as the result of multileveled intertwined interactions among six factors related to social culture education policy school and classroom contexts and to the individual players concerned the book thus contributes to the understanding of teacher student power relations in the context of hong kong by proposing a theoretical framework that reflects local socio cultural educational and school contexts
