the theme of the planetary clock is the representation of time in postmodern culture and the way temporality as a global phenomenon manifests itself differently across an antipodean axis to trace postmodernism in an expansive spatial and temporal arc from its formal experimentation in the 1960s to environmental concerns in the twenty first century is to describe a richer and more complex version of this cultural phenomenon exploring different scales of time from a southern hemisphere perspective with a special emphasis on issues of indigeneity and the anthropocene the planetary clock offers a wide ranging revisionist account of postmodernism reinterpreting literature film music and visual art of the post 1960 period within a planetary framework by bringing the culture of australia and new zealand into dialogue with other western narratives it suggests how an antipodean impulse involving the transposition of the world into different spatial and temporal dimensions has long been an integral if generally occluded aspect of postmodernism taking its title from a florentine clock designed in 1510 to measure worldly time alongside the rotation of the planets the planetary clock ranges across well known american postmodernists john barth toni morrison to more recent science fiction writers octavia butler richard powers while bringing the us tradition into juxtaposition with both its english philip larkin ian mcewan and australian les murray alexis wright counterparts by aligning cultural postmodernism with music messiaen ligeti birtwistle the visual arts hockney blackman fiona hall and cinema rohmer haneke tarantino this volume enlarges our understanding of global postmodernism for the twenty first century the poetics of empowerment in david mitchell s novels combines the investigation of david mitchell s novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies empowerment aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse the fictional characters and the role of the reader in mitchell s novels drawing on narratological analysis cognitive approaches to literature and reader response theory it features close readings of cloud atlas 2004 black swan green 2006 and the thousand autumns of jacob de zoet 2010 and dissects the author s strategies poetics and agenda of empowering fiction this book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines
