two thousand years ago lucretius said that everything is atoms in the void it s physics all the way down contemporary physicalism agrees but if that s so how can we how can our thoughts emotions our values make anything happen in the physical world this conceptual knot the mental causation problem is the core of the mind body problem closely connected to the problems of free will consciousness and intentionality anthony dardis shows how to unravel the knot he traces its early appearance in the history of philosophical inquiry specifically in the work of plato aristotle descartes and t h huxley he then develops a metaphysical framework for a theory of causation laws of nature and the causal relevance of properties using this framework dardis explains how macro or higher level properties can be causally relevant in the same way that microphysical properties are causally relevant by their relationship with the laws of nature smelling an orange choosing the orange rather than the cheesecake reaching for the one on the left instead of the one on the right mental properties such as these take their place alongside the physical motor of the world in making things happen the book is about the authenticity of the conventional wisdom of nature and nurture it engages the readers attention on moments of drawing a line between nature and the environment when establishing which of the two practically manages human beings the popular belief that environmental forces count most in determining who why and what we are is challenged vigorously by this unique book the author has demonstrated clearly with modern scientific revelations that it is firstly the content of all organic matters that controls directs and supervises our actions nurture is the second added force the book emphasizes that human similarities equalities and differences do exist because it is the unique biological constitution that gives energy to act the similarity equality and differences among black people and nonblack people exist firstly because of the natural contents of body chemistry the environment plays an insignificant part the book traces human history from prehistoric times to the present to show the purpose of life the maintenance of life and the progress through adaptation and control of our environment the book concludes that there exists excessive melanin segments in most negroes blood chemistry neurons and brain organ compared to those in most nonblacks this excessive difference in the natural black pigment is responsible for most of the black peoples insensitivities in life management and progress based on evolutionary human history of life and progress
